

“This is not a ‘job.’ This is an honorable ‘personal activity’ “

Quality Control Inspectors

As an Online Quality Control Inspector(OQCI), you go to designated areas online where there are HGRBS-related documents/websites. This special assignment entails inspecting our documents/websites for inactive or misdirected hyperlinks, locating them, then reporting your findings to Special Assignments (link provided).

All HGRBS documents and websites are resident-friendly repositories of free information which is helpful to residents protecting themselves and their families against making bad decisions about contractors. Our information enables our residents to make safer and better decisions for the best people to help with their home projects, instead. If a hyperlink we provide is "dead" or "misdirected," it may have been exactly the one they needed. What you are doing as an Online QCI is helping to ensure that the links are "live" when our residents need them the most.

Whether you contribute a couple hours of your time or longer in this respect, this is something else you will always be proud of being part of. More fodder for your list of volunteer achievements! Your assistance is as welcome as it is needed.

THANK YOU FOR STEPPING FORWARD!
